This manner of disposing of an interrogating member could bardly have been surpassed by an official replying to an un official member of the Hongkong Legislative Council. The mention made of this subject in the report of the Committee was as fo lows: On the 20th January a letter was Indo-Ohna, arrived ab Marsoilles yesterday ceeded in forecasting its movements with comreceived from the Hongkong Chainber of Commerce enclosing the report of a Specia Committee appointed to enquire into the destrability of coining a British dollar, and asking the assistance of this Chamber. furthering the object aimed at. The first reply to this letter was withdrawn, and a reply sent as published in the correspondence annexed, supporting the Hongkong Chamber. The correspondence in connection with the subject has not been poblished in our Shanghai contemporaries, s We only guarantee our Wines and Spirits to that we do not know the connection in which the sentence quoted by Mr. Anderson occurred, but it would appear from the fact China section takes in the Exhibition. of one reply having been cancelled and another substituted that there must have been some vacillation on the part of the Committee. As to whether the scarcity of Mexicans is likely to be permanent or not there might well be a difference of opinion but that does not materially affect the question as to the desirability of a British dollar.

It is the uncortainty in the value of the Mexican dollar that makes the need of a more reliable standard of value so much felt Sometimes the Mexican can be bought for its melting pot value; at other times it is at a premium of five per cent., and no one when entering into a contract to be liquidated in this coin at a future date can say what its value within those limits may be when the contract matures. If, as appears to be the case, a British dollar can now be procured for less than the average cost of the Mexican, surely it would be absurd to continue de pendent ou such an unreliable standard as the latter. The Committee of the Shanghai All our Brandy is guaranteed to be pure Chamber, notwithstanding their difference of opinions as to the probability of a continued scarcity of Mexicans, agreed to support the Hongkoug Chamber in the agitation for a We only guarantee our Win's and Spirits to British dollar. (The learned equisol then read the grant emphasising the words by which the Farmers were granted fall the banefit and advantage of the said Ordinstee The Opium Farmer under that grant has for the last two years and three months exercised those privileges unquestioned and has pud a very considerable sum luto the Colonial I runsury in respect thereof. Now what is the defect in the conditions under which the Opinion Farmer holds and exercises those privileges which t is sought to remedy by the Bill now before the Council The complaint is that very valuable steamers which run between this port, and Canlon and Macao are exposed under the revenue laws of China to very grave risk of forfeiture and to the possibility of being subjected to very serious fines, because people in this colony will although on board these steamers to smurgh propared opium and I confine myself entirely to prepared oping, because the present Ordinance and the Farm have nothing to do with any thing but prepared opium-will persist in endeavouring to sinuggle prepared opinia from this colony into Chinese jurisdiction, hey bring prepared opium on board, concealit on board the steamer, and that in spite of all the exertions of the offic re such hid gs vary frequently cannot be discovered before he arrival of the steamer in Chinese waters. that show are proparty discovered by the activity
